Sam Zimbabwe is the Director of the Seattle Department of Transportation (SDOT). In this role, Sam is guiding SDOT to deliver a transportation system that provides safe and affordable access to places and opportunities. This includes efforts to reduce serious and fatal traffic crashes to zero by 2030 and to partner with communities to build a racially equitable and socially just transportation system.

Join Sam to discuss how Seattle is rethinking transportation during the COVID-19 pandemic, expanding transit, making it easier to walk around town, and tackling major projects like the West Seattle High-Rise Bridge replacement.
