

What is a watershed?

A watershed is an area, bounded by mountains or hills, from which all rainwater flows to a single body of water-- lake, stream, river or sound.

