5:30	Welcome to SWC Monthly Meeting Land/ Labor Acknowledgment: We are currently occupying the unceded lands of many First Peoples; Coast Salish people, Muckleshoot, Suquamish, Stillaguamish, and Duwamish. We acknowledge and thank local First Nations for their centuries of land stewardship that long predates the arrival of European settlers. We remind you to be aware of the spaces you occupy locally, that these lands were stolen from First People in the name of white settler colonialism and that you seek ways to continue your education and give back to local Indigenous communities. Duwamish Tribe’s website  “We must acknowledge that much of what we know of this country today, including its culture, economic growth, and development throughout history and across time, has been made possible by the labor of enslaved Africans and their ascendants who suffered the horror of the transatlantic trafficking of their people, chattel slavery, and Jim Crow. We are indebted to their labor and their sacrifice, and we must acknowledge the tremors of that violence throughout the generations and the resulting impact that can still be felt and witnessed today.” Dr. Terah “TJ” Stewart)	K. Guerrero

5:50	Reproductive Health - NWAAF Guest Speaker <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The Northwest Abortion Access Fund serves Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Alaska. ● There is no eligibility for this program. They assist with funding for abortion care, either in person or increasingly through telemedicine. They additionally offer practical support such as: transportation, lodgings, childcare, cash assistance, food, and more ● The group is founded on the principle of Reproductive Justice, an idea developed by an organization that became known as Sister Song. ● Volunteers staff their toll free helpline. ● NWAAF is currently suing the state of Idaho ● Common themes for why individuals are seeking support from NWAAF are housing insecurity, houselessness, domestic violence, and youth (under 18) ● Funding needs keep growing as the procedures get more expensive. People are finding out they are pregnant later, which causes the need for more complex medical procedures and the need to fly people into Washington State. ● Ways they recommend to support is funding, spreading the word, connecting pregnant people with medicaid, 	R. Bryant
